WE WILL REMEMBER THEM

Don't forget to pay your tributes to our fallen heroes this weekend on Remembrance Sunday. Events are taking place around the borough at local war memorials. What's more, in Kennington, a special exhibition will take place focusing on the fascinating personal stories behind the names on the Kennington War Memorial. Remembrance Sunday details - see page 3. Kennington Memorial - see page 4.

BY ED HILL

TRADERS in the town are pulling out all the stops in the build-up to Christmas in a bid to put Ashford on the top of everyone's shopping list.

And Yourashford is throwing its weight behind their efforts - and encouraging all our readers to once again shop locally in the build-up to the festive season.

It has been a tough year for many businesses - blighted by the double-whammy of massive disruption to the ring-road and the financial strain of the credit crunch.

But it is hoped a string of stunts - and the biggest and best line-up of stores and retailers the town has ever seen - will help get the cash-tills ringing.

Viv Kenny from the Ashford Town Centre Partnership said: "We have just got to get the message across that Ashford is open for business again."

"The ring road will be two-way, the cones are going so we have to start shouting about it now."

With the vast bulk of the roadworks completed in time for the Christmas rush, this will also be the first year to fully benefit from the new, expanded, multi-million pound County Square.

The town has also organised a special winter festival to highlight the best of local crafts and produce.

Mrs Kenny said: "We are looking forward to a very busy Winter Festival over November 28 and 29. We are adding more and more attractions every day."

The European style market will feature hand-crafted jewellery, glass, ceramics, as well

Thug awaits sentence for train attack

■ BY ED HILL

A FOOTBALL thug from Kennington has pleaded guilty for his part in a vicious attack on passengers on a train.

Andrew Spicer, 38, from Hurst Road was one of six men appearing at Southwark Crown Court.

He was part of a gang of 16 Crystal Palace supporters who went on a violent rampage through the train kicking, punching and head-butting passengers.

The incident occurred at Sydenham railway station in September last year. The train contained Charlton Athletic supporters, but many members of the public were caught up in the violence, including women and children.

British Transport Police conducted a dawn raid in order to arrest Spicer in November last year.

Guilty

Detective Inspector Keith Bennett said: "The train contained Charlton Athletic supporters travelling to a game at Crystal Palace as well as ordinary members of the public."

"A 24-year-old Charlton Athletic fan suffered a broken nose in the attack and several other passengers were head-butted, punched and verbally abused during the incident."

Up to 150 officers from British Transport Police and the Met were involved in the investigation.

Of the 16 men arrested, 12 pleaded guilty and four went to trial after being charged with violent disorder.

Although Spicer pleaded guilty at the beginning of the three-week hearing in October, he has had to wait until the conclusion of the other cases to be given a date for sentencing.

Ten members of the gang, who have already been sentenced in April this year, were given jail terms between 24-40 months for what the judge described as "mob conduct at its worst".

They have also been issued football banning orders preventing them from attending matches or travelling on the railways for up to ten years on match days.

DI Bennett added: "Members of the travelling public, including law-abiding football fans, have the right to travel in safety on match days."

"The violence that ordinary members of the public were subjected to on the day in question was utterly appalling. These final guilty verdicts are a pleasing end to year-long investigation."

Mick Everett, operations director at Championship side Charlton Athletic, said: "This was a totally unprovoked and vicious attack on our supporters travelling to the game and also members of the general public going about their daily business."

Spicer is due to be sentenced on December 5.

Lighting up the town with Christmas spirit

as festive gifts and locally-farmed meats and produce.

Stalls will lead from the new Elwick Square area through Bank Street, and into the High Street to join the regular market traders.

Park Mall shopping centre will also feature a range of stalls, along with a special showcase featuring restaurateurs who will demonstrate their own brand of cooking.

There will be live reindeer at Park Mall and five of the Kentish Giants will be making an appearance at County Square.

It has also been confirmed that Olympic gold-medal winner Jamie Staff will line-up with EastEnders' actress Emma Barton (Honey Mitchell in the soap) and TV presenter Stephen Mulhern to switch on the town's Christmas lights on November 22.

Meanwhile, the Designer Outlet will be holding its late-night opening ceremony on November 13 with the erection of a ten-metre tall Christmas tree and a firework display.

Jo James from the Invicta Chamber of Commerce said: "Although times are tough, many of our members are saying they are not as bad as is being reported. Businesses are being cautious but they are carrying on as normal."

Any producers, local arts and crafts people and restaurateurs who would like to participate in the winter festival event should call 01233 664410.

Furniture company leaves retail park

MFI on the Warren Retail Park has been forced to shut its doors as part of a nationwide cutback on outlets by the troubled furniture company.

The store shut for the final time on Saturday – and was one of 81 nationwide which closed for business following a management buy-out of the chain's remaining outlets.

It is understood nine jobs were lost. The store in Tunbridge Wells was also shut. And by Monday all traces of the Ashford store had been removed from the company's website.

Customers with orders outstanding have been told items will be delivered.

Depot secures 160 jobs

A NEW railway depot that has opened in Ramsgate means the Hitachi high speed trains housed in Ashford will also be maintained there.

The £35 million improvements to the Ramsgate facility will mean some of the new trains will be kept at the new depot overnight. However, the company says most major maintenance work will still take place in Ashford.

Wounded captain to address war service

Congregation to hear tales of Iraq conflict

■ BY ED HILL

THOUSANDS are set to take to the streets of Ashford and Tenterden and their villages this weekend for Remembrance Sunday.

And at a ceremony in Ashford town centre this weekend, a soldier injured during fighting in Afghanistan will address the congregation to help remember those victims of recent conflicts as well as the two world wars.

British Legion groups from around the borough are preparing themselves for the annual ceremonies which take place this weekend ahead of Armistice Day on November 11.

David Lamb, from Ashford Christian Fellowship and chaplain for the British Legion, has invited Captain L Roberts – who has just returned from fighting in Iraq and Afghanistan – to give the address at St Mary's Church and talk about his experiences in the Army.

The officer who is a member of the Gurkha regiment based in Folkestone, was badly injured in Afghanistan after an explosion

FITTING TRIBUTE: Towns and villages from around the borough will be holding remembrance services this Sunday struck him and two fellow soldiers.

Mr Lamb said: "I think the address coming from a soldier who has recently been involved in active service will be very poignant."

The soldier is currently undergoing rehabilitation to recover from his wounds.

Mr Lamb said: "He can relate to people because he has been involved. People's lives are being really disrupted by what is happening and he can help them because he has gone through it. We can only speak on a compassionate level."

Mr Lamb added "What the British Legion does is an amazing job. Jim and Rosemary Butcher who are our welfare officers are now amongst the top in the country. They dealt with more than 600 cases this year alone."

The mother of Sergeant Dave Wilkinson, from Ashford, who was killed in July last year, will be attending the ceremony. She has successfully appealed to have his name added to the list on the Ashford memorial. Sergeant Wilkinson, 33, was killed by an explosion during a routine joint patrol with the Afghan National Army in Gereshek, Helmand Province.

People can gather at the war memorial off Church Lane at 10.30am for the Armistice Day ceremony. The service of remembrance will be held in St Mary the Virgin Church at 11.30am.

Towns and villages around the borough will also be holding ceremonies at 11am.

Planning chiefs set for decision

PLANS for 350 homes off Hunter Avenue will be discussed by council planning chiefs next week.

The decision on the development on the former Newtown railway works was deferred in September by the council.

Now a decision is due on Monday.

Initial designs for the scheme by Fairview Homes were rejected by the council after a public consultation exercise and a report from the South East Regional Design Panel. It criticised the design for not fitting in with the context of the area and for having a public open space area next to the Channel Tunnel rail link.

A new design has been submitted addressing the design panel's concerns and putting the public space at the centre of the development.

A council spokesman said: "To allow planning officers at the council sufficient time to prepare a full and detailed report it was agreed that this application be deferred to a subsequent meeting."

The site is located close to the town centre and the council is keen to see it used as part of its future housing targets.

Police report distinct lack of high spirits

HALLOWEEN passed off with barely a bump in the night as police reported "an unusually quiet" evening.

Across the borough the number of incidents reported were down on last year as fewer youngsters took to the streets for trick or treating.

PC Matt King said of the situation in Ashford and Tenterden: "It was unusually quiet for a Halloween night. We received very few anti-social behaviour calls, like egg throwing, nuisance fireworks and that type of call."

Half-term

"Patrols stopped numerous groups of youths throughout the whole area and made just three alcohol confiscations."

Pluckley – which has a reputation as the most haunted village in the UK – did not host its traditional ghost walks or other Halloween events, bringing an evening of calm for local residents.

It is thought the school half-term last week may have prevented many youngsters from organising trick or treating as well as the credit crunch forcing many parents to scrap plans to hold parties so close to Christmas.

'The Truffle' arrives as ring road's circle is finally completed

IT'S been nicknamed 'The Truffle' – and it's the latest bizarre piece of art erected in the town centre.

The Bolt, designed by artist John Atkin, is the focal point of the junction between West Street and Elwick Road. But many say the rusty dome – which from a distance resembles a chocolate truffle – is nothing but an eye-sore.

The sculpture is made out of corten steel which is designed to rust, giving it a protective coating that never requires painting or preservation maintenance.

What's more it is designed to allow the flow of two-way traffic to manoeuvre around the tight corner at the junction of the two roads.

Its installation was due to coincide with the opening of the final part of the ring road to complete the entire circuit going two-way.

Despite a brief hiccup on Monday morning due to a problem with traffic lights, by the afternoon traffic was finally flowing along the missing link on Elwick Road between West

Exhibition turns focus on our fallen heroes

BY ED HILL

JOHN Newington was only 14 when he died in an air raid on Ashford in which 50 people were killed.

Now his story and many others will be told at an exhibition on Sunday, to coincide with Remembrance Sunday.

Photographs, letters and memorabilia will trace the lives of those named on Kennington War Memorial who died in World War One and Two.

Details about where they lived, went to school and worked, and the events surrounding their deaths have been researched by husband and wife team Robin and Jill Britcher, of Faversham Road.

Mr Britcher said: "We had an excellent response to our appeal for information and we have many moving stories to tell."

"Jimmy Allchin was in the RAF and came home to Church Road, Kennington, to celebrate his 21st birthday in November 1941.

"A week later he was killed on his first mission when his plane ran out of fuel and crashed in the North Sea.

"Frank Hollands was captured by the Japanese in Singapore and forced to work on the infamous Burma railway. His last letter home makes very emotive reading."

Kennington was bombed three days before Christmas 1942, killing mother-of-six Edith Smith of Grosvenor Road and Sarah Gray of Fleet Villas.

Among those who died in World War One were brothers Percy and John Vidler – killed within a month of each other. Percy played cricket for Kennington and was top of the batting averages in the two years before the war.

IN MEMORY: The names of Jimmy Allchin (above) and Alex Jennings (top) are on the Kennington War Memorial Alex Jennings, of Kennington Hall, was studying in Zurich when war broke out in August 1914. He was desperate to enlist, but his father persuaded him to stay and take his final exam. Half an hour after it was over Alex was on his way home. He died, aged 22, when his one-seater bi-plane was shot down.

Mr Britcher said: "We hope that people in the community will now be able to remember all those who died as more than just names carved in stone."

The exhibition is in St Mary's Church Hall, Kennington, from 10am-4pm. Admission free.

Dip in and see wildlife project

A SMALL corner of the town is set to become a haven for frogs and newts thanks to a project organised by the Prince's Trust.

A group of 16-25 year-olds have taken part in a 12-week project culminating in creating a pond at the Ashford North Youth Centre in Willesborough.

And you can see film of them working on the project on our free broadband TV website www.yourkenttv.co.uk. Simply search 'pond'.

Steve Jarvis one of the members of the team involved in the project said: "The idea is to attract wildlife like frogs to the pond."

"We also want to get some fish in it, but we are not sure which ones yet. It has been hard work, but I have enjoyed it. We hope it will just be a nice place for people to come and relax."

Victoria Howard assistant team leader of the group said: "I took part in this course myself last year and I found it really helpful."

"The project helps to boost the confidence of people by helping them to gain skills like using the telephone and helping their communication."

Are you or your school or club involved in similar sorts of projects? Then why not film them yourself and upload them on to our site? It's quick and easy to do and we'll feature the best in future editions of this newspaper.

Obama 'will be good for USA' declares Green

Black president a great symbol

DAMIAN Green says a US election victory for Barack Obama will be "good for the USA" – if, as expected, he becomes the first black President.

Polling booths across the States closed in the early hours of this morning in one of most hard-fought campaign in years. And all the polls suggested Democrat Obama was set to sweep to an historic victory.

The Conservative MP told Yourashford: "He is clearly a hugely charismatic and thoughtful figure. I believe it will send a big signal about America to Britain and to the rest of the world if they elect Barack Obama."

Prominent

"I think in terms of the symbolism this will be very good for the United States."

"Whether he has the policies to deal with the issue of the global economic crisis we won't know until he is there. You can never tell with American presidents."

"Sometimes those who have trails of glory before they have been elected have turned out to be a disaster and other people who had very low expectations of have proved very good."

"It's the toughest job in the world as well as the most powerful."

■ BY ED HILL

The US election may seem a long way from Ashford, but the town's links with the country date back 30 years before the Pilgrim Fathers and the Mayflower.

The town of Hopewell in Virginia, our twin town, is named after the ship captained by Frances Epes who was born in North Street in 1597. He became a prominent figure in the burgeoning society of the New World.

And as the voting stubs are counted, those involved in the Friends of Hopewell Association are eagerly awaiting the outcome.

Chairman Terry Stock said: "We were over there last year for the 400-year celebration in Jamestown. When Bush flew in by helicopter many of the Americans we were with at the time said that they did not like him."

The Friends of Hopewell Association began in 1993 and regularly organises exchange visits. Some members of the group even have the Epes surname.

Mr Stock said: "There is a gravestone in St Mary graveyard dedicated to the Epes family. We are in the process of trying to get a blue plaque put up on the outside of number 13 in North Street."

To find out more about the association call 01233 666291.

New funding to allow free swimming for old

A £40,000 cash boost from the local primary care trust is set to ensure free swimming for the over-60s at pools in Ashford and Tenterden. The council rejected adopting the Government-funded free swimming scheme for over-60s and under-16s claiming there would be a hefty cash shortfall it could not afford to pick up.

But the PCT says it will pay £40,000 which should keep afloat the plans for free swimming for the elderly.

The PCT is also funding five other nearby councils that have signed up for the scheme. Neighbouring authority Canterbury has decided to introduce both parts of the scheme which begins in April 1 next year – although Swale has also rejected the proposal.

Head of culture and leisure services at Ashford council Mark Carty said: "We welcome the PCT's targeted funding, we believe that this will make a difference in the community."

Town's people keen to see what future holds

MORE than 1,300 residents visited an exhibition organised by Ashford's Future in County Square at the weekend.

Visitors to the stand were asked which area of the town's growth was the most important to get right as it continues to grow.

Judith Armitt, managing director of Ashford's Future, said: "Ashford is a fast evolving town with many exciting developments and changes happening across the borough."

"We recognise many of the town's residents want to understand what is going on and therefore the event provided an opportunity for them to understand future plans."

"We saw more than 1,300 people over the three days and the majority of feedback received was positive, which shows the level of interest there is in future plans for the town."

QUESTION & ANSWER

PAULINE BEER

Q How long have you been connected with the Ashford area?

A I have lived in Ashford for 40 years and my roots are firmly planted here. I have a love for Ashford and hope never to move away. My husband and children were born here. I have worked with people in the town for more than 20 years.

Q What do you think of the town?

A We have a lot of good things here – a new swimming pool, cinema and bowling alley – and are an expanding town of the future.

Q How did you get involved in the mediation service?

A I have always worked with people, helping and supporting them. I am a trained counsellor and the skills needed for mediation – listening skills, being non-judgmental and trying to bring peace into situations – made it a natural progression for me.

Q What is the history of mediation in Ashford and what is the idea behind it?

A Mediation in Ashford goes back to 1990 with a small group of people – including residents, housing agencies and Ashford council – setting up a neighbourhood mediation service.

This was to help people who were having problems regarding noise, parking, children, boundaries, antisocial behaviour and so on.

Q How does the system work and what sort of issues do you mediate on?

A There are several ways people can use our service. They can refer through an agency, or self-referral by ringing 01233 663488 or emailing ashfordmediation@hotmail.com.

Now, apart from neighbourhood mediation we have also set up peer mediation in schools, teaching children to be mediators.

We also have cases for family mediation. We are a free and confidential service and a registered charity.

Q How successful are the results?

A Very successful. Sometimes neighbours, after talking to us and their neighbours, realise the stresses the other person is under and they try to support each other or become friendly. Often by having mediation the problem may be resolved and not have to go to court. But the process is voluntary and if one party is unwilling to talk we cannot help them.

Q You do not charge for the service. How is it supported?

A We are grateful for funding from Ashford council, Moat, Crime Prevention and other donations from agencies and people.

Q How can people get involved? What skills do they need?

A We need mediators of all ages for all our projects. We are also keen to train young people aged between 18-25 to support young people in families. We can train them free. It can also be used on their CVs as experience when looking for employment.

Q Are you a fan of modern technology?

A Yes, I love my mobile phone and laptop, it makes life much easier. Although when I forget to bring it to work or my laptop plays up, I feel I rely on these things too much.

Q When you are not involved in mediation what else do you do?

A I work for the Primary Care Trust as a health trainer, supporting people giving up smoking, and promote healthy eating and weight management and physical exercise. They are recruiting now and we offer free one-to-one sessions to support lifestyle changes. I am also operations director of Future Dance. We carry out freestyle dance in primary schools in Kent. We have 21 at present.

I don't get much free time, but when I do I write music and poetry, go to church and babysit my grandchildren.

Q If you were marooned on a desert island, who would you like your only companion to be?

A If it wasn't my husband and family, it would have to be Sir Richard Branson. I like the way he runs his businesses. He has many companies under the Virgin umbrella and that is how we see Future Dance developing. I would ask him how he made the first million. I love the entrepreneurial spirit.

Literary triumph from chronicles of disaster

BY NICK AMES

A SERIES of bizarre tales – some long forgotten – has been compiled in a new book by author Phil Mason.

His Kent Chronicles of Catastrophe and Disaster, just published by Countryside Books, collects colourful and strange incidents which have taken place in history.

These include a man run over 12 times by a train on the North Kent line and another train accident which almost killed Charles Dickens, near Staplehurst in 1865, when the Folkestone to London boat train hit a bridge.

Mr Mason, from Gillingham, has lived in Kent for 20 years and this is his sixth book.

He said: "It is not a dry chronology, nor does it pretend to be a comprehensive account of every terrible event."

"Instead I have chosen to shine the spotlight on the stranger, more curious and lesser-known side of Kent's history."

Also included are details of a First World War disaster when a munitions depot in Faversham exploded, killing 106 people.

Such was the force of the explosion that windows were shattered over a 20-mile radius and the bang could be heard 50 miles away.

The first UFO sighting officially acknowledged in the UK took place over Sheerness in 1912, while in October 1134, during one of Britain's worst droughts, the River Medway dried up.

An unusual combat death is recorded when a pair of German aircraft attacked the Ashford to Lydd train during the Second World War.

A shot hit the engine and debris flew into the air, including the steam locomotive's funnel, which struck one of the attacking planes, causing it to crash in flames after it careered into telegraph wires.

The defeat of a French invasion at Sandwich is also examined, as is a torpedo which ran aground during testing and caused panic across Herne Bay.

The sinking of a paddle-steamer called the Princess Alice in the Thames is also recalled, as is a catalogue of disasters close to the Goodwin Sands.

The Princess Alice is the UK's worst-ever civilian shipping accident, as it claimed almost 800 lives.

Other tales include the loss of both Amy Johnson and Glenn Miller in mysterious air crashes, Caesar's invasion 2,000 years ago, the visit of Tsar Peter the Great and paranoia about a Nazi tunnel under the sea.

The author said: "Owing to its geographical position as the gateway to Britain, Kent has witnessed more than its fair share of great events."

'We are easing congestion on the school run'

A HOST of schemes designed to slash the number of school children being regularly driven to school is delivering results, county council chiefs claim.

Kent County Council has released figures which reveal an estimated 3,000 fewer pupils in the last academic year are being driven in.

In 2006/07, sample data showed 35.6 per cent of pupils were being driven to school.

For the 2007/08 school year, that figure had reduced to 34.1 per cent.

With more than 211,000 young people attending Kent schools, the council has hailed this as "a major step towards tackling congestion in the county".

It follows a number of schemes rolled out by KCC to supplement the Government-required school travel plans. Among them are:

- The Kent Freedom Pass – a scheme that allows students aged between 11 and 16 to travel on buses anywhere in Kent.
- Working with charity Sustrans to employ a Bike It officer in the Ashford area and encouraging cycling to school across the county.
- Working with bus companies to establish any issues around behaviour on buses and find solutions, so pupils, drivers and the public feel comfortable using them.
- Rating school travel plans to maintain interest and providing additional funding to support schools with 'platinum' status – achieved through introducing sustainable travel schemes.

KCC leader Cllr Paul Carter said: "Nationally, walking and cycling to school has declined in the past 20 years so it is great that Kent is bucking that trend."

"KCC has worked with parents, pupils, teachers and transport companies to offer real alternatives and incentives for people to change their travel habits."

"Not only is it healthier for parents and pupils, it cuts down on congestion to keep Kent moving."

PAUL CARTER: Says Kent is bucking transport trend

Superbug infections in decline

A TOTAL of 269 patients in Kent and Medway caught the superbugs MRSA and Clostridium difficile between April and June this year.

However, the county saw 55 per cent fewer cases of the healthcare-associated infections than over the same period in 2007, the latest Health Protection Agency (HPA) figures show.

Nationally, C diff rates have fallen by more than a third, which officials put down to improved hand-washing and a clampdown on over-prescribing antibiotics. The figures are those combined from Dartford and Gravesham, Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells and East Kent Hospitals University NHS trusts and Medway NHS Foundation Trust, as well as Bromley Hospitals and Queen Mary's Sidcup trusts.

In all the trusts, since the period April to June 2006, the number of MRSA cases has gone down, from 68 to 34 this year. The number of patients with C diff has fallen from 502 in 2006 to 196 in 2008, the HPA data show. Laura

Probert, of the National Concern for Healthcare Infections, said: "Safeguarding funding for infection prevention and control can help as this is often the first pot that gets raided whenever a trust is in financial difficulty."

The campaigner, whose mother died from C diff at the William Harvey Hospital in Ashford, said KOS Media's campaign to highlight the importance of hand hygiene in the fight against killer bugs was important in raising awareness about hand-washing.

LIBERTY CAPPED: Magic mushrooms are illegal

Not so mushroom for debate after law is tightened

FOLLOWING police seizures of so-called magic mushrooms this autumn, it is clear many people remain uncertain about the legal situation regarding the fungi.

There is a widespread belief that picking the hallucinogenic psilocybin mushroom is legal but preparing it for consumption in any form is not.

That is not the case. The Drugs Act 2005 ended the situation in which fresh magic mushrooms were legal but those which were dried or prepared for use were not.

The Home Office ruled the hallucinogenic drug was harmful to some users – especially vulnerable people and those with mental health problems – and acted to clarify the law.

Home Office Minister Paul Goggins said in a statement: "Magic mushrooms come under Clause 21 of the Drugs Act 2005. It is now an offence to import, export, produce, supply, possess or possess with intent to supply magic mushrooms, including in the form of growing kits."

Exceptions will be made for people who unknowingly pick the mushrooms in the wild or find them growing in their garden. Critics have argued the act is difficult to police.

Although some do grow in the wild, the vast majority of hallucinogenic mushrooms sold on the open market come from farms in Holland.

Users experience effects ranging from intensification of colours, lights and sounds to hallucinations.

Negative effects can include vomiting, disorientation and anxiety.

Why we should be making a fuss over the bigger issues

AS you read this, the polls in the US will be shut and the slow process of counting the votes will be well under way.

In fact, if you don't pick this paper up until the weekend, then the chances are the count is complete and the winner and their new First Lady are now choosing colour schemes for the White House.

In the Congo, blood-curdling atrocities are taking place leaving children orphaned or the victim. And if that wasn't enough, the world continues to teeter on the edge of financial meltdown as the stock markets drop quicker than Harry Redknapp's reputation in and around Portsmouth.

Throw in new scientific proof that the rise in temperatures at the North and South Poles can be attributed to mankind's influence on the atmosphere, and not just a natural cycle, and all in all it was a pretty strong news week.

Yet you'd be forgiven for not realising it. Because our newspapers, radio and television stations over the past ten days have been dominated by a misjudged phone call placed by two over paid stars to the bloke who used to be the bumbling buffoon Manuel from Fawlty Towers. You really could not make it up.

Perhaps it was the glorious escape from day after day of doom and gloom about capitalism itself self-implosion... none of which most of us really understood, other than all our jobs were a little less secure. What could be the perfect tonic but a desperate craving for the blood of two celebrities for whom the credit crunch sounds more like a trendy type of apple than something to impact on their wealth?

Of course, there were some key principles at stake. Yes, the BBC has a responsibility to its licence fee paying public and yes, it was about time Jonathan Ross was exposed as the tired old bloated has-been he has become.

But the acres of news print and hour upon hour of broadcast space devoted to it, has been overkill on a level previously unheard of.

And the casualties seem to be mounting up at an alarming pace. First Russell Brand – a fine talent and whose radio show was, for those who had never heard of it before this fuss, an hilarious, witty treat which will be sadly missed – then the controller of Radio 2 and, at the time of writing at least, the bank balance of the aforementioned bloated Mr Ross.

I could say we need to get a bit of a sense of perspective here. There are more important things at stake. And I'm sure Andrews Sachs – who has conducted himself with wonderful dignity – must surely be amazed that some messages on his voicemail have dictated the national news agenda for a solid week.

In fact, I will say it. We, as a nation, have this regrettable ability to whip ourselves into a ridiculous frenzy over things we suddenly attach society's core values to. But what benefit has losing Brand as a Saturday evening DJ or the controller of Radio 2 actually brought to society that a good old fashioned apology couldn't do? Precisely nothing, I would say.

In fact the only good is that I don't have to watch Jonathan Ross on the telly for three months. And the off button was always there for me to make that judgement without a baying mob doing it for me.

TALK TIME

PAUL JERVIS

The ex-soldier, who lived for ten years in Charing, discusses the difficulty in returning to normal life after leaving the Army

How do you know the Ashford area?

I live elsewhere now, but was here for about ten years.

What did you do before?

I was in the Royal Bodyguard section of the Household Cavalry. I went in as a boy soldier at 15 and left when I was 27. I did enjoy my time in the Army, although the bullying was bad. You expect that in an elite regiment, it's all part of the toughening-up process. I left because as a non-commissioned officer (NCO) there was no way I could make it up the ladder.

What do you think of the Army now?

I feel sorry for those serving today because they are not exactly thanked for what they are doing. I had a lot of problems after coming out of the Army. I suffered from post-traumatic stress, but didn't know what it was. I had 20 difficult years and finally got access to a mental health unit. Once you have been in a situation where you are picking up your mate's entrails, you just switch off to the world. At the time you deal with it and don't know how things are affecting you. Then it hits you later and you realise something is not right. It's only now that I am getting help.

YOUR LETTERS

Yellow lines will not be enough

I have to say I think putting more yellow lines on the roads is not going to solve the problem of foreign trucks near the Orbital Park (Yourashford, page 2, last week).

It will just make it more difficult for the people who work there to find parking spaces. I think it would be far better if all employees who have to park on the road are issued with a parking permit displayed in their cars, on clear signs in various languages and on-the-spot fines and/or clamping imposed on lorries parked where they should not be. I appreciate that all this costs, but would probably be cancelled out by the saving on cleaning up and repairing damage incurred by the lorries and their drivers. I, for one, am heartily sick of dodging between them on my way to work and it is only a matter of time before there is a fatality caused by their inconsiderate and, frankly, dangerous parking.

Gillian Barnes, by email

Lives are being made a misery

My daughter and her family live at the end of Canterbury Road and their lives are made very difficult by the parking of these trucks and the driving conditions they cause.

At the weekends, when the boot sales and market are there, it is often impossible to drive down the road at all and even on days when the cattle market is in process these trucks are there.

On warm days I have seen groups of drivers with tables on the footpath playing cards and dining al fresco.

They use the bushes as toilets, which is nasty for people who have to walk past.

A wonderful lady called Margaret Pryke has been campaigning for so long to try to get something done. The whole area has extra congestion due to the Newtown Bridge closure.

I don't feel yellow lines on the road will make any difference – the trucks just park on them and no one ever seems to check.

Helen Overy, by email

JOIN THE DEBATE: Let us know your views on the lorry parking issue on and around our streets. Do you think it is a problem? And how should we solve it? Write to: The Editor, Yourashford, KOS Media, Apple Barn, Hythe Road, Smeeth, Ashford, TN25 6SR.

Open the gates for disabled drivers

I understand the NCP car park over Wilkinsons is due to close for a few weeks.

Why can't the powers that be open the gates in the centre of Bank Street for disabled people while this work is going on?

When possible, my husband and I do park in the town before 10.30am, but are not always able to do so.

Therefore, we have to use the NCP as my husband is disabled and unable to walk from Victoria Road car park by the Pop-in Centre.

It was a trial period to close these gates at 10.30am but it was never reviewed.

If you are in town from 10.30am onwards and look at all the disabled spaces unused, I think it is disgusting to see them empty.

What do other readers think?

Fireworks trauma of sensitive horses

While I commend the Co-op and Yourashford for reminding people about the trauma pets can experience through the noise of fireworks, at least dogs and cats can be taken indoors and comforted, not so one of the most sensitive of animals – the horse.

I have two ponies which live outside and each year I dread November 5.

If fireworks were only set off on the actual date then it would not be so bad, but they seem to start earlier and go on longer each year.

The penchant that started with the Millennium for fireworks on New Year's Eve is

Eco-footprint research step in right direction

Kent Green Party praises Ashford council for commissioning research to establish its overall ecological footprint.

The party has written to other councils in Kent asking them to do the same.

Information from such a process will help our councils use their very scarce resources more effectively.

Ecological footprinting can reduce waste, encourage re-use of materials and lead to cuts in greenhouse gas emissions.

It should be standard procedure for all councils to commission ecological footprints, but it is not yet law.

We urge local councils in Kent to follow Ashford's lead, because it is clearly a path towards greater efficiency and ecologically-sustainable development.

There is, however, one major problem for councils in reducing their ecological footprint.

Kent County Council's Local Transport Plan promotes the management of increases in traffic throughout the county.

Increases in air pollution, noise, waste of resources in short journeys all of these follow from the KCC approach.

Until our local councils can persuade KCC to adopt traffic reduction measures, especially in urban areas, a large part of the ecological footprint in each area will not be addressed.

Steve Dawe, Kent Green Party

Resolve to help us beat cancer in New Year

It might seem far away to your readers, but the New Year is only just around the corner and now is an ideal time to start thinking about your resolutions.

We have produced a World Cancer Research Fund (WCRF) diary for 2009 that could help you to keep those New Year's resolutions.

The diary is full of hints, tips and reminders to help you stick to that new healthy diet and active lifestyle throughout the year.

It also contains advice about what you can do to reduce your risk of developing cancer.

The A5 hardback diary also has some delicious seasonal recipes – such as asparagus risotto and rhubarb syllabub – proving that healthy can be tasty at any time of year.

To order your diary, visit www.wcrf-uk.org or call 020 7343 4205. Diaries cost £12, plus £1.50 postage and packaging.

As well as helping you stick to your resolutions, the money raised will also help us continue to fund our vital research and education programmes into the links between lifestyle and cancer risk.

Lisa Cooney, head of education, World Cancer Research Fund

Hospital's staff were simply magnificent

I must thank the staff of William Harvey Hospital for the wonderful, kind, considerate, caring treatment I had while in Kings Ward C2 having a hip replacement.

The staff were very careful about keeping everything clean and germ-free. It was only the thoughtless actions of some visitors, who came in with fizzy drinks which got spilt, which made more work for the staff.

Some visitors also put coats and bags on clean beds which were ready for patients. Perhaps a little more thought is needed from visitors, who should use the hand wash gel when they come onto the wards, then we can help clear these dreadful bugs.

The food was fresh and plentiful and the catering very adaptable to the choices of patients. Thank you all for your care. Well done, William Harvey staff.

Margaret Ludlow, Sellindge

A 20mph speed limit will let us reclaim the streets

Kent Green Party is advocating 20mph limits for all residential areas to improve safety for pedestrians and cyclists.

Over two-thirds of all road casualties happen on built-up roads. A survey of the introduction of 20mph zones found that child road accidents declined by 67 per cent, cyclist accidents by 29 per cent and traffic flow by 27 per cent.

At 20mph drivers can have eye contact with other users of the street, pedestrians feel safer and children can play outside.

While the UK's roads are among the safest in Europe, walkers and cyclists are still intimidated by high speeds. The leading cause of death to children over the age of five is road crashes. The number of cyclists killed has risen by 30 per cent since 2003.

The UK Commission for Integrated Transport has reported 20mph limits as "the one critical success factor underpinning best practice in promoting walking, cycling and public transport as alternatives to the private car".

Dr Hazel Dawe, Kent Green Party

MAGIC OF MUSICALS

Friday, November 7
Sinden Theatre, Tenterden

EXPERIENCE the best of the West End musicals right here in Kent with the Sinden's latest musical extravaganza.

Magic of Musicals offers a slick, stylishly choreographed take on the musicals we all know and love, featuring songs from hit shows such as Les Miserables, Cats, Phantom of the Opera, We Will Rock You and Wicked. Tracks from these favourites and more will be performed by talented singers Gilda Kristian and Kim Graham in this exciting show.

Kristian has been performing on stage since she was five years old and has appeared in an array of stage productions including Annie, Guys and Dolls and The Rat Pack Live From Las Vegas. She has also travelled all over the world and was vocally trained by Lansford Roberts of the Nice Opera Company.

Graham trained at the Italia Conti Academy and has become an in-demand functions, session and commercial singer, fronting orchestras all over the world. Both performers have appeared as the Abba girls in The Legends Show at The Imperial Palace, Las Vegas.

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £12. To book call the box office on 01580 763826 or visit www.sindenentertainment.biz.

Women inherit a battle in dramatic production

TWO sisters join forces in Alan Ayckbourn's drama Snake in the Grass.

Returning home after the death of her father, Annabel finds she has inherited the bulk of the fortune instead of her sister Miriam, who acted as his carer. When a dismissed nurse makes demands, the pair close ranks but all is not as it seems. The Charing Guild of Players will be performing at the Church Barn in Charing from Thursday, November 13 to Saturday, November 15. To book tickets, priced at £6/£5, call 01233 712695.

Jump from a plane to raise cash for animals

DAREDEVILS are being sought to take part in a fund-raising parachute jump for The Aspinall Foundation.

Volunteers can dive solo from 12,000ft, do a tandem skydive strapped to an instructor from 10,000ft or try a 3,000ft static line jump. The jumps can be made at one of more than 20 British Parachute Association approved airfields, in aid of the foundation which runs Howletts and Port Lympne Wild Animal Parks.

THE STRANGLERS

Wednesday, November 12
Leas Cliff Hall, Folkestone

LEGENDARY rock band The Stranglers will bring their unmistakable sound to Folkestone next week.

With hits such as Golden Brown, No More Heroes and Peaches, the Stranglers have been one of the UK's most enduring bands and continue to influence present day artists. They started out on the mid-70s pub rock scene and later became leading figures on the UK punk rock scene, but their refusal to be pigeonholed in one musical genre lead to their dabbling in a variety of styles. They went on to experiment with gothic rock, new wave and even pop during the 80s.

The band came together in 1975 in the shape of a foursome - Hugh Cornwell, Jet Black, Jean Jacques (JJ)

Burnel and Hans Warming. Hans was soon replaced by keyboard player Dave Greenfield, whose instrument added a distinctive element to their songs.

Now more than 30 years old, the band has seen some line-up changes and is still exploring its talents, to the delight of fans.

The concert starts at 7pm and tickets cost £23. To book call 0870 4000 890 or visit www.leascliffhall.co.uk.

MY GRANDFATHER'S GREAT WAR

Sunday, November 9
Gulbenkian Theatre, Canterbury

TWO very different lives with a common bond meet in the drama My Grandfather's Great War.

As a fitting tribute to Remembrance Sunday, Cameron Stewart performs his one-man show based on the First World War diaries of his grandfather, Captain Alexander Stewart.

The solo drama blends the different perspectives of two men living at opposite ends of the 20th century, contrasting the horror of the war and today's notions of war and patriotism.

The diaries, which remained a family heirloom for 70 years and have been heard on Radio 4's Today programme, include frank accounts of life in the trenches. Last year Cameron published them online and after selling thousands of e-books, the diaries were published in hardback by Hodder & Stoughton in June, under the title A Very Unimportant Officer.

There will be a post-show discussion with Cameron in the theatre. Tickets cost £11/£9. The show, which starts at 4pm, is suitable for ages 11 and above. A Sunday roast lunch will be available in the Café Bar from noon to 3pm, priced at £6.50. To book tickets and make a lunch reservation, call the box office on 01227 769075.

Quintessential English splendour

BY GARY WRIGHT

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE is too often overlooked for its neighbour Warwickshire, which revels in its 'Heart of England' moniker.

And that's a mistake. Sharing as it does the rolling countryside and beautiful old world villages and houses that can only be England, the county deserves a visit.

Brilliant motorway access makes it easy to reach for a weekend break and there's a host of places to visit from Princess Diana's family home of Althorp Park to the famous Silverstone race circuit. There's also Rockingham Park, Boughton House and Holdenby Manor to while away a few delightful hours.

Be prepared to relax. Even as the autumn chill took hold, the roaring log fire in the beautiful Fawsley Hall hotel meant you could have been in another century.

The elegant Tudor mansion, just south of Daventry, claims Queen Elizabeth I as a former guest so you're in good company and when you decide to put down your gin and tonic and make your way to the restaurant, the food is magnificent. Trust the maitre'd and you will sample some truly delightful food, from a chicken liver and foie gras pate that was perfect, to beautifully presented sea bass or roast lamb that melted in the mouth.

The house was built by Richard Knightley in the 15th century and the suite used by Elizabeth I in 1575 can still be seen, with its high roof, sumptuous four-poster bed and delicately carved fireplace. And if you fancy a stroll, the picturesque parkland with its woods, lakes and sweeping lawns, was designed by Capability Brown in the 1760s and 70s. As you'd expect, there's a spa and fitness suite, but you'll be surprised there's also a cinema. Unfortunately we missed the 9.30pm film; the evening meal was just too good and the chance to sprawl again in front of the roaring log fire too appealing.

RELAX: Fawsley Hall, perfect to explore the beautiful county of Northamptonshire

We shared our time in the county with a stay at nearby Hellidon Lakes. A more modern hotel that is popular with golfers and owned by the award-winning QHotel group, it too offered a splendid base from which to explore Northamptonshire.

But where should we visit? Princess Di's former home had some attraction, after all it has become a place of pilgrimage for so many and it seemed right to go and take a look. But on the recommendation of a fellow guest we decided to take a look around nearby Canons Ashby. This Elizabethan manor house, run by the National Trust, and almost unaltered from how it would have looked in 1710, was beautiful with its period wall paintings and delicate Jacobean plasterwork.

It boasts a surprisingly grand church and the remains of the 12th century Augustinian priory from which the house takes its name.

Food features high on any short break and alongside some excellent restaurants there are dozens of pubs offering great value grub.

Lunch came courtesy of the restaurant at the Plough Inn in the tiny village of Everdon. Great service in a traditional country pub that is as popular with locals as it is visitors.

The weekend drew to a close far too quickly and the 150-mile return drive to Kent. The M1 is easiest but a 35-minute detour toward the M40 out of the county into Warwickshire gives you a look at the castle or, of course, Stratford upon Avon for a little Shakespearean action.

What Northamptonshire offers is a genuine slice of England. All American visitors should be told to see it and the great part is it's so central you really can use it as a base to visit so many places.

Gary Wright was a guest at Hellidon Lakes, Fawsley Hall and The Plough Inn.

Ricky's having a laugh

BY SHEREEN LOW

RICKY Gervais has come a long way since playing nightmarish boss David Brent in The Office.

After becoming famous for Brent's social faux pas and terrible dancing, he's become a comedic force to be reckoned with around the world. The Office is one of the most successful British exports of all time and he has a number of awards to add to his name to prove it.

These days he mingles with Hollywood heavyweights like Robert De Niro, Ben Stiller and Samuel L Jackson, but you won't see the 47-year-old losing sight of his Reading roots.

"I've only been in this business for seven years and I still pinch myself, particularly with how well The Office did and the people we got to work in Extras," he says.

"I mean, it's still weird to me that even Robert De Niro has heard of me, let alone wants to fly to England for a day. It's very strange."

Ricky insists he won't lose himself to fame and fortune.

"I still know why I'm doing it. I do it for the creative process, and only that. This [speaking to the press] is fun, and awards shows are fun, and the money's good – actually, it's brilliant – but I do it because something in you has to do it. And I think you've got to remember that, otherwise it will be weird."

He adds, laughing: "You'll see me next year – I'll be about nine stone and big white teeth, Simon Cowell's teeth!"

Now the actor-writer-director is taking on his first leading Hollywood role in supernatural comedy Ghost Town, following

NO BRAD PITT: "I've got the bone structure, it's just well hidden," says Ricky Gervais cameo appearances in Stardust and Night At The Museum.

"I never thought my first film would not be written by me or Stephen Merchant [collaborator on The Office and Extras]," he admits. "But quite simply I'd been offered hundreds of scripts over the last few years, and this is the best I've read in that time."

Ghost Town sees Ricky play a dentist who has the ability to communicate with ghosts after a near-death experience, but he openly admits he's not into that in real life: "I don't believe in ghosts or fairies or ghouls or ESP or crystals or any of those things."

Another first for Ricky, described as the "master of the comedy of the uncomfortable", is playing the romantic hero, although he says his character is not a conventional male lead.

VIEW THIS PREVIEW

"My fear was people thinking I'm taking myself seriously so it was important that the romantic element was different and awkward, and I just didn't want that ending where the music swells up and I get the girl in the traditional way, because it would be nauseating," he explains.

"People would go, 'Who does he think he is? Look at him'."

"I don't need to be George Clooney or Brad Pitt. I've got the bone structure, it's just well-hidden."

He may not be Brad, but Ricky has his own Angelina in TV producer and author Jane Fallon, whom he has been with for 26 years. The couple met while they were studying at university, and have homes in London and New York.

Ricky, whose next project is directing Jennifer Garner, Rob Lowe and Jonah Hill in This Side Of The Truth, says his dream role would be playing a villain.

"I would love to play really crazy bad, the worst person ever, that would be funny," he reveals.

"Like Hannibal Lecter but with less moral conscience."

PROPERTY NEWS

Not a licence to print money, but a professional business option

LANDLORDS will need a licence-to-let and a business plan to take out a mortgage, under new proposals published by the Government.

In a report that could halt the activities of buy-to-let investors, independent housing policy experts recommended measures that would turn letting property into a business rather than a bit of cash on the side.

The review, designed to root out landlords who provide a poor standard of accommodation, also proposed tax incentives that could include changes to stamp duty and capital gains tax for professional landlords to encourage them to buy more properties.

Dr Julie Rugg, the author of the report, said: "We want to see a new culture of renting, where landlords view themselves as hands-on businesspeople not hands-off investors."

The licence would mean that landlords who fail to measure up could have points deducted or lose it altogether and be banned from letting property – rather in the manner of a driving licence

Slight increase in mortgage lending

MORTGAGE lending picked up slightly in September but remained near record lows as the housing market continued to struggle.

A total of 23,422 mortgages for house purchase were approved by British banks last month, up from a record low of 21,342 in August when summer holidays helped push figures down.

There was also more positive news as estate agents reported a slight rise in sales for the month.

Each agent sold an average of six properties in September, up from five in August – the first rise since January, according to the National Association of Estate Agents.

However, mortgage lending in September remained near the lowest on record and is below the six-month average of 27,481, the British Bankers' Association's figures show.

Upsurge raises hopes of market movement

STILL ACTIVE: Creativity and effort is the key to preventing business from stagnating and dispelling the gloom, according to property group Connells

PROPERTY group Connells has just celebrated its most successful sales and lettings month of the year in Kent – and it says it's not all doom and gloom in the county's housing market.

Staff say this shows recent initiatives have helped stimulate trade and make people aware moving is still an option.

They added that the rental market is also picking up and said as long as estate agents are realistic in what they expect to make and consider their prices carefully, the market need not stagnate.

Area partner Mark Weller said: "The results show that the property market in Kent is active and that large numbers of people are still moving or looking to rent.

"With the summer holidays over and people thinking about moving into a new place before Christmas, we have seen a surge not only in the number of instructions but also in tied-up sales.

"We expect this trend to continue as the recent reduction in interest rates could be just the incentive needed for those who were hesitating about buying.

"Houses will continue to sell, as long as vendors are realistic and their agent is prepared to work really hard on their behalf, using every opportunity to bring a property to the attention of as many buyers as possible."

Other upsurges have been seen across the market. Canterbury was recently voted as having a continuing appeal to buyers.

David Bexon of SmartNewHomes.com said of the city: "Homebuyers are keen to buy into impressive history and status as a World Heritage Site.

"The local economy has grown substantially, with thousands of businesses based in the city centre and plenty of job opportunities."

Housebuilding is also going ahead in Ashford, which has been earmarked as a growth town.

Developers say they have taken fluctuations in the market into account and proposals for 35,000 new homes will be maintained.

MOTORS NEWS

Baby Alfa makes early arrival at Kent dealer

ALFA Romeo's sporty new MiTo supermini arrived at two Kent dealerships this week – two months ahead of official UK launch on January 24, 2009.

But the county's newest Alfa dealership, Lipscomb at Aylesford, Maidstone, and long-established Northgate at Canterbury have the order book open already on the charismatic Italian brand's new baby.

Prices start at £10,975 for the entry level Alfa MiTo 1.4 16V 95BHP Turismo and market watchers at the CAP valuation guide expect the MiTo to hold its value well – the Alfa MiTo 1.3 JTDM (diesel) Veloce should retain 47 per cent of value after three years/60,000 miles.

FG Barnes goes after sales drive with launch

VAUXHALL dealer FG Barnes has taken on the Chevrolet brand and celebrates with a major promotion next weekend.

The move follows closure of the nearby Dutton Forshaw Chevrolet at Parkwood, Maidstone, and will be marked by tempting deals on more than 100 approved used Chevrolets and Vauxhalls.

FG Barnes will also spend around £100,000 on a site revamp to accommodate the brand, with a formal Chevrolet opening in early January, coinciding with Vauxhall's launch of the all-new Insignia.

Captivating Chevy deal on until the end of year

CHEVROLET launched its spacious Captiva SUV last year with a fanfare – prices from £16,995, but closer inspection revealed that this was for the asthmatic front-wheel drive only petrol model.

Now Chevy is offering the more desirable fwd 2.0 VCDi LS diesel for the same price until the end of 2008, saving £1,450 against list price and bringing far better performance and economy – averaging around 40mpg – as well as delivering a high spec including alloys, quality stereo and roof rails.

LOOKING GOOD: Audi's latest generation A4 is a mixture of lifestyle estate and serious load lugger and its longer wheelbase has enabled the car to edge closer to BMW's 3-Series

Audi's A4 spaceship is a 'best drive' – at a price

AUDI created probably the biggest cabin in the compact executive class by launching the all-new A4 earlier this year.

The car's long wheelbase wheel-at-each-corner format has also enabled it to edge closer to the compact executive car leader, BMW's 3-series.

If it is still somewhere short of the rear-wheel drive Beemer for balance and driving pleasure, the gap can be bridged by all-wheel drive A4 Quattro models, for a modest premium of under £2,000 against two-wheel drive equivalents.

Little else is modest on the A4 line-up though once you start moving up from the underpowered sub-£20,000 118bhp 1.8-litre petrol entry model.

Trading up to a diesel takes the threshold to £22,150 and options will pile on the pounds; our seductive 3.0TDSI Quattro Avant (estate) test car in mid-range SE trim sells normally for £30,300, but leather seats – they should be standard at this level – add £1,765 and the money pit then opens up.

ROAD TEST AUDI A4

BY STEVE LOADER

STAR QUALITY

Driving appeal	★★★★★
Image	★★★★★
Space	★★★★★
Value	★★★★★
Running costs	★★★★★
Reliability	★★★★★
Green rating	★★★★★

Our lavishly-spec'd car struggled to justify its £41,590 price tag.

Where A4 cabin feels well-made, roomy and durable at the £20,000 end of the market, it looks hideously over-priced at the other end.

Enough about shortcomings though, because there is plenty to laud too and especially when equipped with the creamy six-cylinder 237bhp 3.0TDSI diesel – the perfect riposte to claims that petrol engines are still best for refinement.

There is lots of pulling power on tap and the Quattro system transfers this tidily to the road to deliver 0-62mph in 6.3 seconds and a great drive – one of best on test this year.

The long wheelbase, wide track, low-slung stance and light weight plant the car well on the road and it corners with a flat stance and lovely poise, again aided by the Quattro system.

The ride is not harsh though and the A4 feels classy on the motorway, helped by that big cabin and, if fitted, the £1,100 'Open Sky' panoramic sunroof.

As for the Avant body style, this latest generation is a good mix of lifestyle estate and serious load lugger and a sharp looker too.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Firms clamping down on 'social networking'

ONE in three firms in southern England has tough policies for stopping staff social networking, according to new research.

UK firms are the strictest in Europe for not allowing staff to access Facebook and other social networking sites at work.

A new report by mobile network provider 3 reveals that millions of us are social networking during office hours.

Thirty per cent of people in the region surf social networking sites while at work and experts have now coined the term 'social networking' to describe the trend.

It has reached endemic proportions but bosses aren't impressed, with many now imposing official restrictions.

Contract hard sell

BUSINESSES are still overlooking one of the most critical parts of a firm – IT support – says a county expert.

Stuart Kenny, director of Liquid Knowledge in Ashford, said: "Many businesses renew their IT contract habitually and have found their contracts are either lacking in terms of support or far exceed their requirements."

"Basic hardware warranties offer limited peace of mind as modern IT equipment is robust and stable."

"Only 10 per cent of all warranty claims involve hardware. The other 90 per cent relate to software and it is only when software problems have to be resolved that the business owner realises their warranty is hardware-based only."

Data security deficit

A LARGE part of the South East's workforce does not know how or where personal and company data is stored.

They also do not understand the importance of keeping data secure, according to a survey commissioned by data centre and computer room specialists Migration Solutions. Almost half of respondents surveyed had never heard of data centres.

And 39 per cent had no idea where their company data was stored, while 45 per cent of respondents believed their company's data was stored on the server.

Half were unsure if their company backed up its data, while a tenth knew for sure that their company did not.

A quarter believed a long-term IT disaster at head office, such as flood or fire, would have no impact on the business at all.

Savers batten down the economic hatch

■ BY TONY PATEY

MORE than three-quarters of South East small-business owners are holding onto their cash rather than making immediate decisions about investment because of economic uncertainties.

According to new research by Bank of Scotland Business Banking, over the next 12 months, two in five plan to put aside money for future investment in the business, while a third plan to put aside money in savings to earn interest.

A third plan to put aside money for insurance against hard times and a further worsening in economic conditions.

Britain's small-business owners are currently saving more than £1 billion every month, and a quarter of SMEs in the South East are investing more back into their business than they are saving.

Slightly more are saving and investing in equal amounts, and only one in eight is saving more each month than they are investing back into the business. A third of small-business owners are neither saving nor investing.

Peter Wood, head of strategy and products at Bank of Scotland Business Banking, said: "In a more cautious economic climate, where saving is prioritised over investment, it's vital that SMEs find the best home for their surplus cash."

Meantime, with individuals, almost a third of people in the South East have changed spending habits in the last six months and spent less to cope with the credit crunch – and the region now has the biggest savers.

The average savings balance is £15,493 compared with a national average of £12,703. Scots are reckoned to be the worst savers, with an average stash of £9,939.

Figures released by Lloyds TSB Consumer Banking reveals that more than half of respondents in the region are taking action to clear their debts. Individuals in the South East have, on average, unsecured debt of £2,800, slightly above the national average of £2,771.

A third have increased the amount they pay off each month, compared with only 24 per cent in the North East – the UK's most indebted region.

However, when it comes to long-term saving, 32 per cent of respondents say they do not have a pension, while 57 per cent admit they are concerned about not having enough money for retirement.

In fact, one in five of inhabitants in the region has less than £500 in their savings, leaving them potentially vulnerable to financial difficulty in these uncertain times.

Over half of savers in the South East say they are putting money aside for a rainy day or emergencies. Almost a third are saving for holidays and 27 per cent are putting money away for their retirement. One in five say they are saving for future increases in household bills.

EXIT: Kent need a new overseas star after Yasir Arafat re-joined Sussex

Relegation to give Kent's new breed chance to prove their worth, says Key

CRICKET

KENT'S reliance on Kolpak players as a "stopgap" appears to be at an end with the emergence of a crop of new youngsters, according to skipper Rob Key.

The county have turned to Kolpak cricketers in recent years to bolster their squad, with the additions of South Africans Martin van Jaarsveld, Ryan McLaren and Justin Kemp, but the club will change its policy next season.

Relegation in the County Championship this summer was hard for everyone connected with Kent to take, but Key admits it gives the club's youngsters an opportunity to impress.

He said: "It's a chance for us to bring on some of the young players. We do not want to be going down the Kolpak route as that was a stopgap for us for a while.

"Players like Ryan McLaren have been fantastic and continue to be so, but at the same time we have got to be giving the youngsters a chance."

Sam Northeast, Charlie Hemphrey and Alex Blake will push their claims for inclusion at the start of the season.

Meanwhile, Pakistan all-rounder Yasir Arafat followed Neil Dexter and Matt Walker out of the club last week after re-signing for Sussex.

The 26-year-old, who joined Kent in 2006 from Sussex, performed admirably for the county in his two years at St Lawrence.

He was leading wicket-taker in one-day and Twenty20 cricket last season, but his decision to sign for Indian Premier League side Kolkata Knight Riders forced Kent's hand as it meant he would not have been available for the whole season.

Kent now begin the search for a new overseas star, with Key not ruling out the possibility of using two players over the course of the year.

Green mauled by fast-starting Bears

BROMLEY Green were unable to recover from a dreadful start as they lost to a resurgent Bearsted on Saturday.

Green conceded a penalty after only two minutes, which was easily dispatched by Jason Batt.

It was 2-0 minutes later, but the home side pulled a goal back before the break when Dan Cornell headed home Ryan Smith's cross.

A third goal for the visitors in the second half proved decisive, leaving Green 12th. They visit Fleet Leisure this weekend.

In Division One East, Kennington's game at APM Mears fell victim to the weather. This Saturday they host fellow strugglers New Romney.

Town release Hogg

MIDFIELDER Anthony Hogg has been released from his contract at Ashford Town.

Hogg rejoined manager Steve Lovell in January after playing for him at Sittingbourne, but although he featured in the Ashford side last season, he has found his opportunities limited this campaign.

Lovell said: "We have a few players vying for central midfield positions and especially now, with James Humphreys coming back into the squad, Hogg was not really going to be in my plans so we have let him go."

Striker Bradley Spice, also signed by Lovell from Sittingbourne, has decided to take a month away from football.

Goalkeeper Josh Willis was forced off with a thigh injury, replaced by Jamie Riley, but it failed to halt the visitors' momentum. Bottle shot wide and Daniel Brathwaite had a goal disallowed before the break.

Seanla and Sean Ray missed presentable chances to make the game safe early in the second half, before Fleet levelled against the run of play.

Sherwood swung in a deep cross from the right which was perfect for Bottle to calmly volley home from ten yards.

But as the game ticked into the fifth minute of injury time, Fleet found a second goal to deny Ashford.

No Olympic hangover as Staff sprints to title

CYCLING

BY TOM HOWARD

OLYMPIC champion Jamie Staff made a victorious return to the Track Cycling scene with a comfortable victory in the Team Sprint at the World Cup meeting in Manchester on Sunday.

The event was Staff's first competitive race since he clinched the Olympic gold medal in Beijing just two months ago.

A huge home crowd turned out for the meeting at the Manchester Velodrome to witness the Team GB Olympic cyclists in action.

The 35-year-old joined fellow Olympic Team Sprint champion Jason Kenny and Ross Edgar in the trio for the Team Sprint competition.

Staff and the Great Britain team qualified for the final with ease, finishing fastest in the heats. They posted a time a second faster than second-placed Poland and more than a second slower than their pace in Beijing.

With Great Britain's main rivals France, who they beat in the Olympic final in August, not competing, Staff, Kenny and Edgar set up a gold medal final with Poland.

The trio were not phased in the final and crossed the line almost a second faster than Poland with a time of 44.306 seconds.

A blistering opening lap by Staff gave the Great Britain team a half-a-second lead. They crossed the line to a standing ovation from the Manchester crowd.

The victory for Staff and the Great Britain trio will give them a boost, as they head to the next round of the World Cup at Melbourne on November 20.

Staff has already set his sights on becoming world champion as his next target after achieving his ultimate goal of being Olympic champion in the summer.

With France winning the Team Sprint in the last two championships, including this year's event at Manchester in March, Staff is determined to add the crown to his impressive career.

The 2009 World Championship takes place in Poland in March, which will give the Ashford cyclist and the Great Britain team time to train to reach their peak fitness once again.

TRIUMPHANT RETURN: Jamie Staff returned to the top step of the podium by winning the gold medal in the Team Sprint World Cup meeting at Manchester

FOOTBALL

BLOW: Steve Lovell was left frustrated by a late equaliser that prevented Ashford from winning on Saturday

Lovell hoping luck will turn in Town's favour

STEVE Lovell was left frustrated after his side conceded a last-gasp equaliser to deny Ashford Town their first win since victory at Metropolitan Police at the end of September.

Ashford fans thought they were on their way to their points after Jimmy Bottle's second half strike gave them a 2-1 lead. However, Eddie Smith snatched a last gasp equaliser in the 95th minute.

Lovell said: "It was a blow but things are not going our way at the moment. Luck changes over the season and I am sure it will change. We deserved to win the game. I do not know where the referee got the extra time from but it doesn't matter. The boys played really well."

The 2-2 draw extended Ashford's run without a win to seven games and they have slipped to 11th in Ryman South. On Saturday, Town host Walton & Hersham and Lovell is confident his side will end their poor run of form.

He said: "It has been a long time without a win but we have drawn quite a few. We are still not far off being in the play-offs."

"Every team will have a bad run during the season. We are in a bit of one now, but on Saturday we played well and I am sure we will get back to winning ways soon. We had a squad meeting during the week and we have faith we can turn it around."

"They are all tough tests in this league. Walton & Hersham will be difficult but the league is very tight apart from Kingstonian. We have still got 28 games to go this season. We are confident we can string some good performances together and go on a run."

With midfielder Anthony Hogg leaving the club last week, Lovell has admitted he would be interested in strengthening the squad if the right player became available.

He said: "I would like to strengthen all over really. If someone becomes available that we want I will try to get them. We are scoring goals and are defending quite well so I am quite happy with the squad."

Weather fails to put a dampner on Brews

SUNDAY LEAGUE

ONLY one game in the Ashford & District Sunday League Premier Division escaped the weather last weekend as Brewmaster comfortably beat Bromley Green.

Darren Light grabbed a hat-trick and Danny Jennings netted twice for Brews, while Gary Mickelbrough scored Bromley Green's consolation in a 5-1 defeat.

Three-quarters of the matches in the Sheber Trophy were cancelled due to the heavy rain on Saturday, but two sides did make it through to the quarter finals.

Bromley Green Reserves fared better than their first team, smashing eight past Wye Monarchs Reserves. Ashley Webster helped himself to six of the goals in an 8-1 win.

In the only other game in the competition to survive, Newchurch beat Troggs Reserves 6-2. Gavin Prowse hit a hat-trick, with Greg Hitchman, John Simpson and Phil Aspri all getting on the score sheet. Andy Adamson scored both Troggs' goals.

In the Division One Cup, Shay McGuinness' brace helped Hamstreet overcome Bocca 3-2. Darren Warburton got the home side's other goal to cancel out a brace from Bocca's Jeff Ross.

Egerton progressed in Division Two, beating Wye Monarchs 5-2. Sean Magri and Richard Tubbs shared four goals between them and Arran Dry scored the fifth. Harry Yates and Richard Lynch scored for Wye.

Shadoxhurst continue to be the team to beat in Division Three. Givaudan were the latest side to finish second best as they were thrashed 9-1. Stuart Prior filled his boots with six goals and Sean Gibbs, Andy Hone and James Matthews all hit one each.

In the bottom tier, title contenders Park Farm Rangers beat Bibly Reserves 8-2.
